

Before the mountains were formed

Psalm 89

Before the mountains were formed
Before the world came to be
Before the sun the moon and stars
You are God eternally

You turn men back into dust
And say "go back sons of men"
And in your eyes a thousand years
Are gone like yesterday

Before the mountains were formed
Before the world came to be
Before the sun the moon and stars
You are God eternally

You sweep men away like a dream
Like grass which flowers and fades
Make us know the shortness of our days
Teach us wisdom in heart

Each morning fill us with your love
May we celebrate this love each day
Give joy to your servant O lord
We rejoice and sing your praise

Before the mountains were formed
Before the world came to be
Before the sun the moon and stars
You are God eternally

Copyright © 1995 by Val Goldsack.